International Students who fail in the authentication of their physical certificates are asked to be re-examined in China.

Physical Examination is the compulsory step for students whose study period will be two semesters at Tongji University.

Concerning Entry Visa

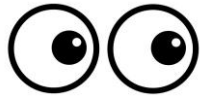

According to the regulations issued by the Shanghai Bureau of Exit –Entry Administration, the international students should apply for a residence permit for legal residence if the study period in China more than six months.

International students who are going to study in China should prepare admission letter, yellow sheet of JW202 form, medical report(ref. above part of “physical examination” if it is required by visa application) and other documents, and apply for an entry visa of X1 or X2 at the local Chinese Embassy or Consulate.

ENTRY VISA:

- International students, whose study period in China is equal to or more than 6 months, should apply for X1 visa for entry.
In order to apply for residence permit in China after entry, international students must get back the admission letter, yellow sheet of JW202 form and other documents after applying for entry visa from the Chinese Embassy or Consulate.
- International students, whose study period in China is less than 6 months, should apply for X2 visa for entry (Single Entry ONLY). X2 visa cannot be changed to residence permit (Multi-Entry) .
- Visa-free is not permissible for international students.

Concerning Residence Permit

[Please pay attention]: International students with X1 visas are required to apply for the residence permit within 30 days of their entry. In order to have enough time on physical examination and application for residence permit, please do not enter into China before 1st September 2018. Any early entry caused visa problem needs to be under students' own responsibility.

To apply for residence permits, international students must collect all the requested documents and get introduction letters from International Student Office and within valid period of current entry visas (only on working days). Otherwise, any application for residence permit will not be accepted.

International students should apply for the residence permits in person at:

Shanghai Exit & Entry Administration Bureau (More Branch offices will be announced on the registration date)

Address: 1500 Min-Sheng Road, Pudong District (Metro Line Nr. 2, Station “Shanghai Science and Technology Museum”), Tel: 0086-21-28951900
